

Mark Your Calendar

This is North Knox Intermediate's fifth year hosting Family Literacy Celebrations

This year's theme is Mission Possible: Building a Community of Readers.

We are happy to announce our first event for the 2018-19 school year:

Tracking Down the Evidence

Thursday, November 8, 2018

5:30 - 7:00 p.m. at North Knox Intermediate

During the evening, participants will:

- Complete Literacy missions (gymnasium)
- Visit the photo booth (music room)
- Visit the book fair (library)
- Possibly win a door prize

Families with children of all ages are welcome. After participating in the activities, every student can select a book to add to his/her home library. We have books for all ages—preschool through high school. Alternative activities will be available for those second grade and younger.

Mission activities have been created for families to complete together. Whole families can move through the activities, or adults can split up, each taking a child or two or more.

Be on the lookout for more information. Registration forms will be coming home with students soon!

Books and materials for this event are being purchased through a grant from the Duke Energy Foundation.
